To assure success for your child and to make an informed decision about his/her application and possible placement at St. Anne's School of Annapolis, it is important the Admissions Committee have as much information as possible. Please complete the following section with this in mind.

All information provided regarding applicants is held in strictest confidence, with information being disclosed only to those persons with a need to know it for admissions and/or placement purposes. This policy applies to all information supplied by parents or guardians regarding an applicant's medical, psychological and special education history.

Does the applicant have any current health issues or life threatening allergies?

If yes, please give details:

Has the applicant received special psychological or educational evaluation or treatment?

If yes, please give details. We find that any formal evaluation or testing can be especially helpful in connection with placement decisions. Please make any such evaluations/test results available to us:

Has applicant ever been diagnosed with a learning difference?

If yes, please give details:

Does applicant have an Individualized Education Plan (IEP)?

If yes, please attach a copy.

St. Anne's School of Annapolis provides a regular classroom education environment. The School has neither trained personnel nor facilities to address the educational needs that fall outside the realm of the regular classroom setting. Parents should discuss any such issues clearly with the Director of Admissions.
